

About LoginRadius

LoginRadius is a developer-first CIAM platform trusted by mid to large enterprises worldwide. It powers secure authentication and user management for over 500 global brands, reaching 1.17 billion consumers.

With an API-first architecture, LoginRadius lets engineering teams implement enterprise-grade identity solutions with minimal code while providing the flexibility and customization that developers demand.

Built for scale, the platform combines production-ready SDKs, comprehensive APIs, and visual workflows to accelerate the implementation of advanced authentication flows, SSO, and security features like MFA. LoginRadius supports developers with open-source tools across major programming languages and seamless integrations with over 150 enterprise applications.

Backed by Microsoft's M12 and recognized by analysts including Gartner and KuppingerCole, LoginRadius delivers enterprise-grade security and scalability while maintaining the superior developer experience modern engineering teams expect.
